SOUL BLESSING CEREMONY

A curated spiritual journey drawing from Balinese energy work, ancient healing practices, and the wisdom of a respected local spiritual guide. This one-of-a-kind experience is designed to restore harmony between body, mind, and spirit—gently releasing what no longer serves and recharging your inner energies with intention.

The ceremony begins with a personal session guided by a Balinese spiritual guru, including a chakra diagnosis and palm reading to assess your energy alignment. The process continues with sound healing—stimulating the release of endorphins—followed by crystal therapy to boost serotonin and restore emotional equilibrium.

Next, your energy centres are awakened through a focused ritual to raise the kundalini and activate the soul star chakra. You will then receive Melukat—a traditional purification with holy water—followed by mudra energy transfer and personal prayer. The ceremony concludes with the tying of a Tridatu bracelet, symbolising protection and spiritual guidance, and a final offering (Banten) to release intentions into the universe with gratitude.

This sacred ritual can be held either at Raffles Spa or within the secluded setting of The Sanctuary. Complimentary for in-house guests staying in the Two Bedroom Villa categories, and available at an additional charge for guests staying in One Bedroom Villas. A minimum of 24 hours' advance reservation is required.

MELUKAT

BALINESE PURIFICATION RITUAL

The Melukat ceremony is one of Bali's most profound spiritual traditions—an act of cleansing the subtle layers of the self to restore balance and clarity. Derived from the Balinese word lukat, meaning “to cleanse” or “to purify,” this ritual is rooted in centuries-old Hindu practices that honour water (tirta) as a divine source of life and healing. In Balinese belief, water holds sacred energy capable of washing away leteh (impurities), be they emotional burdens, stress, or unseen spiritual disturbances.

At Raffles Bali, Melukat is conducted at the resort's temple, a quiet sanctuary within the natural landscape. The experience begins with a thoughtful introduction to the meaning and purpose behind the ceremony—allowing participants to understand not only the steps, but the deeper intention of spiritual renewal. A guided meditation and silent prayer help to centre the mind before the priest begins the metirta ritual: a blessing using tirta or holy water, drawn and consecrated through ancient mantras.

Each participant receives purification through a combination of tirta sprinkling and symbolic washing, while a Pejati offering—a complete and sincere expression of devotion—accompanies the ceremony. The experience is deeply personal, yet shared in reverence with the elements and energies that surround us.

Complimentary for in-house guests. A minimum of one day's advance reservation is required; offered on select dates and times.
